

Open Access (OA) Publishing Subsidy Program by the Ecological Society of Japan

(updated on 17 January, 2024)

Purpose:

Promote Open Science by subsidizing OA expenses for member articles' publication.

Eligibility:

- First or corresponding author must be a member of the Ecological Society of Japan, the Society of Population Ecology, or the Society for the Study of Species Biology.
- New members are also eligible.

Charges:

- Authors pay 180,000 yen + transfer fee.
- Ecological Society of Japan covers the remainder of APC (Article Processing Charge) paid to the publisher.

APC Fees:

- $3,000 for Ecological Research and Population Ecology.
- $2,750 for Plant Species Biology.

Restrictions:

- This subsidy cannot be used with a publication expenses subsidy through a transformative agreement with Wiley provided by an affiliated institution.
- Please confirm if the corresponding author's affiliated institution will cover Article Publication Charges (APCs) as part of an agreement with Wiley.

Details: please see: <https://authorservices.wiley.com/author-resources/Journal-Authors/open-access/affiliation-policies-payments/institutional-funder-payments.html>
